Ms Kyoko Nakata,
National Multiple Sclerosis Society
Japan

Dear Ms. Kyoko Nakata,

We are very happy to congratulate you on winning the 2017 Wolfensohn Award and that you have become the International Person with MS this year!

Undoubtedly, this important achievement will allow you to further consolidate efforts in improving the quality of life and treatment of patients with MS in Japan. My colleagues at the National MS Society of Russia and I believe that your successes in your country will serve as an example to those who need a vision of perspectives in protecting the interests of people with MS.

I express my ardent hope that for the purposes of our organizations, we shall be able to unite our forces and capabilities for the benefit of people who seek help from us. Your win in the International Competition will also help us in this, and we want to congratulate you with respect to this victory again and again!

Yours faithfully,

Igor Tsikorin

President
